Picturesque landscapes encourage physical activity – nordic walking (or poling) in the summer and cross-country skiing in the winter. If you want to have a good rest, our cottage on the edge of Drawa National Park in the last so wild part of Poland is the best place to do it. It is here where you will find landscapes untouched by civilization and places with abandoned, derelict farmhouses. It is also here where you will taste fresh milk straight from our happy cows, eggs laid by happy hens, home-made bread and pure air.
